1. Referenced material was referred to this Office for comment. Aside from general authorities for war-time control, this Office would restrict its comment to the effect of paragraph 11 "Legal" of Reference (b). In subparagraph b., we see that legal personnel are to be made available at certain bases. It is perhaps more appropriate to discuss this on a world-wide basis, but we think this should be the subject of some consultation with members of this office. Subparagraph c. refers to paragraph 4m, Law and Order, Appendix V. This, we understand, should read Appendix IV rather than "V". As such, it falls within the Security portion. As far as the contents pertain to matters other than "jurisdiction", we feel they are properly under the Security section (e.g. matters of law enforcement, criminal investigation, confinement). However, any definition of jurisdiction or establishment of courts-martial or other judicial bodies would preferably be within a separate Appendix. We would appreciate an opportunity to discuss this further.
